

USER GUIDE

Welcome to the Language Resource Center (LRC). This leaflet is to notify you of all of the available resources at the LRC and how you can use them. If you wish to know more about the way we operate then please refer to our other leaflet explaining our vision and methodology.

Available Resources

The LRC has a range of available activities and resources. Our resources are constantly growing in order to provide you with the best possible learning materials. At the LRC we have books, televisions, radio and CD players, computers, magazines, and a big-screen television.

How to use the Resources

The resources are there for you to make the most of. It is up to you to use the resources that will benefit you most. For instance, if you are an interactive learner then perhaps the best resources for you could be to use the interactive websites recommended by the LRC on the computers.

The internet possesses a wide range of rich materials. If you log on to one of the LRC computers under the account 'LRC Student' and click on the web browser Google Chrome, you will already find a list of recommended websites. Below is a list of useful websites:

News Sites

On many of these interactive learning websites you will find audio files, games, grammar, useful vocabulary, and videos.

Homepage

Our homepage, http://www.netvibes.com/english_online#Tool_box, provides the learner with a number of tools in order to develop their English. Please see our Homepage User Guide for more information about this website and how to get the most from it.

Log Sheet

The log sheet is for you to fill out every time you come to the LRC. It is up to you to write a brief description of what you did at the center so we can keep a record of your progress.
